Significant business opportunities exist in the biotech/pharma space between the United States and the Greater China Region. Successes in exploiting these opportunities can be affected by a number of factors that are beyond technology excellence and market needs. Understanding what these factors are and be able to properly leverage on them can greatly increase the probability of success in making market entry and attaining competitiveness.

The presentation and discussion will be led by Mr. Kam Li, Partner at Procopio, who has extensive experience counseling technology companies to protect, leverage and exploit their creative assets worldwide.
